Naval Shipbuilding Activities Criticized In Report

PASSAGE OF FOUR BILLS BEING URGED

Munitions Investigators Make Preliminary Report to Senate

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—Private shipbuilders "have the appearance of being expensive luxuries," the munitions investigating committee informed the senate today in a preliminary report criticizing naval shipbuilding activities.

"The record of our shipbuilders in the war, in the post-war period, and in the days from 1927 on," the committee reported, "has not been an entirely pleasant or wholesome story."

The committee recommended enactment by congress of four pending bills designed to "prevent collusion in bidding," "safeguard military secrets" of the government; make public activities of shipbuilding "lobbyists," and "prevent profiteering" on naval vessels.

The committee also recommended that the government limit private shipyard profits to five per cent of the total contract price.

Chairman Gerald P. Nye, R., D., and others on the committee hope to complete their investigation next fall. They plan to examine war-time activities of J. P. Morgan and company and other large banking houses which negotiated private loans with the allies during the war.

The group has not yet made a final report on any phase of its inquiry, although it was offered several bills and resolutions designed to "take profits out of war" and "preserve American neutrality" in the event of another conflict.

Although its inquiry is not complete, the committee submitted a 400-page report listing these general "findings":

1. Some shipbuilders "are certainly not above suspicion of willingness to wave the flag or to circulate war scares in the plain and simple interest of their own pocketbook, regardless of results."
2. Builders should be "definitely policed in any and all moves made by them or through them to confuse public-defense needs with their private profits, or they should be cut off entirely from the building of ships for the navy."
3. Indications are that private yards cost the government from one to two million dollars more per cruiser than navy yards.
4. The navy is left at the mercy of shipbuilders in bids on construction.
5. Naval officials make no attempt to determine whether profit limitations set up in the Vinson-Trammell act are enforced or evaded.
6. If there was no collusion in bidding, "there was a sympathetic understanding among the big companies of each other's desires," and if there were no conversations about bidding among them, "there was telephoning."
7. Shipbuilders "know that the navy feels it has to have the ships, and they raise the prices."
8. Opposition of private companies to navy yard construction has been intense.
9. There are "indications of the use by the navy of the shipbuilders"

BURGLARY RING BROKEN UP AND JEWELS FOUND

LOS ANGELES, June 24.—(UP)—With a man and his wife in jail police said they had broken a movie colony burglary ring which reportedly looted fashionable homes of more than $200,000 worth of jewelry in the past year.

Walter N. Deutsch, 36, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and his wife, Eleanor Deutsch, 34, were held on suspicion of burglary and police planned to question them in connection with more than $100,000 worth of the suspects' automobile as he was about to leave for Cincinnati.

Arresting officers said Deutsch has a police record here and in the east.

Included in the confiscated loot, according to police, was more than $3000 worth of jewelry and valuables stolen last February from the home of Ernie Smith, former University of Southern California football star.

Await information
Police awaited information from San Francisco authorities who reported a man giving the name of David Mercer was arrested there on suspicion of being a "fence" for the asserted burglary ring. Mercer reportedly is a brother-in-law of Deutsch. He was reported in possession of more than $100,000 in jewelry.

Deutsch, ex-convict released from San Quentin penitentiary one year ago, according to police records, was packing bags with his wife and daughter, Mary, 13, for a flight.

JAMES IRVINE, JR., PASSES AWAY SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT HOSPITAL IN LOS ANGELES

LOSING a gallant fight against death which extended over a period of 16 years since an attack of influenza during his war service, James Irvine, Jr. passed away Sunday afternoon at 1:05 at St. Vincent's hospital in Los Angeles.

He was 42 years old and recently had celebrated his forty-second birthday on June 11. He was a native of San Francisco, and the son of James Irvine of Santa Ana and San Francisco.

The remains were taken to the Godeau and Martindale mortuary at 828 West Washington avenue, Los Angeles, pending funeral arrangements expected to be completed today following arrival of his father from San Francisco.

Heart strain, induced by nine operations within the past year, was a contributing cause of death, according to his physicians, who today paid high tribute to his patience, courage, and cheerfulness during his long fight against the inroads of disease.

"He was one of the greatest patients I ever had," declared one of the surgeons who had attended him during the past year, at Pasadena, at La Crescenta, and at Phillips.

Mrs. Waley Faces Trial July Fifth

Will Be Tried in Federal Court on Kidnaping and Conspiracy Charges

TACOMA, Wash., June 24.—(UP)—Mrs. Margaret Waley, accused accomplice in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, will go on trial July 5 on charges of kidnaping and conspiracy to kidnap, Federal Judge E. E. Cushman ruled today.

Mrs. Waley remained in her jail cell in Olympia today while her attorney, Steve O'Brien of Tacoma, battled to have the trial delayed until July 9. Harmon M. Waley, her husband, was sentenced last Friday to 45 years in federal prison. He probably will testify in his wife's behalf at her trial.

U. S. District Attorney J. Charles Dennis requested Judge Cushman to set July 5 or 6 for the hearing, over O'Brien's protests.

O'Brien declared John F. Dore, former Seattle mayor, who was appointed to assist in Mrs. Waley's defense, believed the trial would not last more than a week and would be completed in time for Judge Cushman to start his vacation July 15, as scheduled.

Judge Cushman then set July 5 as the opening date, with the understanding no more than that day will be occupied in selecting a jury to hear the case.

COMMUNIST "PLOT" PROBED BY POLICE

SAN PEDRO, Calif., June 24.—(UP)—A reported communist "plot" designed to take over control of the Pacific Coast marine labor unions in the event of a new strike was being investigated today by police.

Police said they stumbled onto the asserted "plot" following discovery of a small arsenal in the apartment of Fred Friedel, marine labor leader, who was killed during a gun battle with officers.

A high powered small caliber rifle found in Friedel's apartment was used for "sniping activities" along the waterfront during the last few weeks, investigators said.

POLICE TO BE REORGANIZED

HONOLULU, T. H., June 24.—(UP)—William Gabrielson, chief of the Honolulu police department, revealed today that he had accepted an invitation to reorganize the police force of San Diego, Cal.

A product of the famed Berkeley police department, Gabrielson has been in charge of the Honolulu police force since the famous Masie case. Under him the department in the island capital has become noted for its efficiency and its freedom from graft.

F. D. R. EXPRESSES DESIRE TO SAIL YACHT OUT OF NEWPORT TO SAN DIEGO DURING VISIT

DEFINITE assurances that President Franklin D. Roosevelt would visit Orange county, probably in September, were given in a dispatch from Washington, received by The Register today.

Roosevelt probably will sail Dr. Albert Soland's 55-foot yacht, Viking IV, from Newport Harbor to San Diego. He declared in an interview with Dr. Soland yesterday in Washington that he would "like a try at the job," and it perhaps would take place in September.

Soland, commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht club, and of the Pacific Coast Yachting association, extended his invitation to the chief executive together with a request to the president to formally dedicate the new $2,000,000 Orange county harbor.

The new harbor probably will be finished by the first of September, government engineers in charge of the project said, and everything will be in readiness for the president's visit. The work has been under way since last fall.

Dr. Soland has interviewed the president twice relative to his Orange county trip, ten days ago issuing an invitation to visit the county and the harbor, yesterday adding his personal invitation to skipper the Viking IV to the Exposition city.

The president also has been expected outside the door of a cafe at Westminster at 2 o'clock Sunday morning by two men who rushed her to an automobile in which sat two other men. The motor was running and the four sped away, holding her down in the back seat.

The car was driven from Westminster to a best field near the Smelter bean growers warehouse, where the kidnappers took her out of the car into a field. She declared that all four men attacked her, and struck her about the face with their fists, when she resisted, she said.

After the attack, the men ran away, leaving her in the field. She struggled to her feet and barefooted, made her way to the farmhouse of C. A. Planchon, nearby, where she sobbed out her story. Planchon brought her to the sheriff's office, where she told her story before going to the hospital.

Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean and Deputies Musick, Ragan and Duhart went out immediately on the case and through tire marks found in the ground at the scene of the crime, traced ownership to Frank Rosa, Stanton Mexican. He was arrested at 11 a. m. At 6 o'clock yesterday evening, Rosadino Saneado, 31, was arrested as another of the quartet. No other arrests have been made.

Rosa was taken immediately following his arrest to the hospital where Mrs. Dean quickly identified him as one of the men who attacked her.

"I am sending a telegram to Governor Martin demanding an immediate removal of all troops and state police here," said Rosa.

READY FOR ORDERS
SACRAMENTO, June 24.—(UP)—Adj. Gen. Seth Howard, commander of the California National Guard, was ready today to send mobilization orders to half a dozen companies of guardsmen in event Humboldt county officials ask the state for aid in averting serious trouble in the Eureka strike area.

When it appeared late Saturday that a call would be necessary during the weekend, Howard ordered a National Guard plane from Los Angeles and loaded it with gas shells which he planned to have his troops use if serious trouble developed. The plane returned to Los Angeles yesterday after Howard reported that the situation "seemed to have eased."

Guardsmen will not be sent into the strike area unless Gov. Frank F. Merriam receives a call for aid from the Humboldt sheriff or other high county officials, Howard said.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—Congressional leaders, believing that President Roosevelt will want to Los Angeles yesterday after Howard reported that the situation "seemed to have eased."

A White House conference of congressional leaders was called for 5 p. m. today.

"I think the president will urge action during the present session," Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson said after a conference at the capitol.

He added that he believed the present session of congress would be extended "at least 30 days" by the decision of congressional leaders to take up preliminaries of the whole tax question.

BUSINESS MEN OF SANTA ANA SOLIDLY BEHIND LITTLE NRA AND SUCCESS NOW ASSURED

WITH VIRTUALLY five solid blocks of Santa Ana's business section signed solidly to support the provisions of Santa Ana's "Little NRA," the movement is assured of success, Howard Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who is directing the drive, said today.

Block captains and chamber of commerce officials have been canvassing the business section since Wednesday when the agreement not to curtail wages, reduce the number of employees, or change the hours of business was promulgated by the Business Men's Association and the Chamber of Commerce, and close to 100 per cent cooperation has been promised thus far.

Directing the drive are W. H. Vandermast, W. L. Swanberger, Samuel Hart, Francis Horton, secured.

S. A. Woman Attacked By 4 Mexicans

Victim of Severe Beating Sobs Out Story from Her Hospital Cot

TWO MEXICANS were being held in the Orange county jail today, charged with kidnaping and rape, while deputy sheriffs scoured the county for two others, who are asserted to have kidnaped, and assaulted Mickey Dean, 32 widow, of 1049 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Dean is in the Orange County hospital, suffering from a severe beating she received at the hands of her assailants and from shock. The story she told officers makes the crime appear to be one of the most atrocious reported to authorities here in years, police said.

She reported that she was seized just outside the door of a cafe at Westminster at 2 o'clock Sunday morning by two men who rushed her to an automobile in which sat two other men. The motor was running and the four sped away, holding her down in the back seat.

The car was driven from Westminster to a best field near the Smelter bean growers warehouse, where the kidnappers took her out of the car into a field. She declared that all four men attacked her, and struck her about the face with their fists, when she resisted, she said.

After the attack, the men ran away, leaving her in the field. She struggled to her feet and barefooted, made her way to the farmhouse of C. A. Planchon, nearby, where she sobbed out her story. Planchon brought her to the sheriff's office, where she told her story before going to the hospital.

First Christian Church Votes To Ban Race Track

The congregation of the First Christian church yesterday added its voice to the protest against revival of a county fair, with a race track in connection.

A resolution addressed to the county supervisors, opposing the proposed race track project, was unanimously passed by the congregation at the morning service when proposed by M. D. Haskell, chairman of the church board.

Other local religious organizations, already on record against the race track proposal, were the board of the First Congregational church, the board of the First M. E. church, the Brotherhood of Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, and the Santa Ana Ministerial Union.

DOMINION OVER ABYSSINIA IS AIM OF ITALY

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
ROME, June 24.—(UP)—Italy intends to demand actual sovereignty over ancient Abyssinia, authoritative circles reported today as Benito Mussolini and Anthony Eden, British cabinet envoy, began a conference on world politics.

To impose sovereignty, it was intimated, Mussolini envisaged recourse to arms—a smashing campaign that would leave the last of Africa's independent states subdued.

Prospect that Mussolini would demand dominion over Abyssinia made it seem likely that the British naval agreement, which brought Eden here from Paris, would be subordinated.

There were indications that Mussolini would use Britain's example of negotiating separately with Germany—to the anger of France—as a weapon to advance his Abyssinian ambitions.

Informants said Mussolini would contend he had absolute freedom to act, even though Abyssinia is a fellow member of the league of nations because:

1—Abyssinia pledged when it was admitted into the league to abolish slavery, and has not done so. It also has imported arms in violation of agreements and has failed to establish a firm central government.

2—Britain itself ignores the league when it likes—as in the German naval agreement. Italy cannot be expected continually to support the league, even though it seeks peace, when policies adverse to it, such as the German naval agreement, are pursued.

Strength was lent to the new reports of Italy's demands by the nature and extent of its military preparations in its colonies of Africa and Somaliland on the African east coast. Its army, sent at the cost of millions of dollars, is a deadly force, perhaps the most modernized ever assembled, a compact powerful unit equipped with every machine of destruction.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—The senate today passed the Bankhead Farmer's Home Corporation act which seeks to aid tenant farmers by financing them in the purchase of homesteads. The bill now goes to the house.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's advisory allotment board today recommended expenditure of $115,000,000 of the $400,000,000 work-relief fund to care for the nation's needy during July.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(UP)—The Glass senate banking subcommittee voted unanimously today to recommend enactment of a resolution extending operation of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for one year from June 30.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS TO BE TUESDAY

More Than 6000 Expected to Be Registered Before Close of Conclave

WITH A record attendance of nearly 6000 at the second general session Sunday night, and with a registration of 5649, the largest in its history, the 48th annual convention of California Christian Endeavor society today had broken all precedent, while registrations continue to pour in for the final two days of the assembly of California youth in Fullerton guests of Orange county Christian Endeavor Union.

One of the features of the program tonight will be the big barbecue supper which will be served on the Fullerton Union High school grounds. This event is open to the public at a nominal charge.

Archie Raitt, northern Orange county Y. M. C. A. secretary, is in charge of preparations for the barbecue and put 700 pounds of prime beef in the pits last night. The dinner will include all the trimmings of a barbecue dinner and Spanish beans will be one of the main dishes, Raitt said.

Miss Ada May Visick, president, opened the session formally Saturday night in the convention hall, the gymnasium of the Fullerton Union High school. This hall, seating nearly 5000, was well filled for this first general meeting.

The Rev. Vere W. Abbey of Bangalore, India, general secretary of Christian Endeavor for India, Burma and Ceylon, presented the theme of the convention, "The Christ-Centered Life," in the first session as the principal speaker. Otis Ironmonger, convention soloist, also appeared on this program as did the Collins twins of Anaheim who are assisting at each general session as vocalists for the theme presentation.

Christian Endeavor annual state conventions have been known in the past as being the largest convention in California. In the breaking of records this year it was not by a few but by hundreds, since the largest preceding registration was in 1919 at Long Beach, when 5185 registrations were recorded.

The general convention sessions were to be continued this afternoon, tonight, Tuesday morning, when officers will be elected. Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night, the final meeting, when installation will be held.

In addition, many conferences of general and special nature, dinners, luncheons, meetings of intermediate and junior society groups, executive committee meetings and other sessions will convene between general sessions. On Tuesday, before the final session, four big banquets will be held. Many exhibits also are on display on the convention grounds, the Fullerton Union High school campus.

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 24.—(To the Editor of The Register:)

Well, this "sock the rich" program is about all you hear about now, and you can tell just to a dollar how much a man has got by how sore he is. They are supposed to put the thing over till next Congress, but Senator Joe Robinson in the morning's paper had the best suggestion, as he generally always does, for he is mighty level headed and plenty smart. Joe says to thrash it out at this session. "Why go home leaving everybody in fear of the next session," hold the clinic now, and operate if they going to operate. You won't help business by postponement, why not go ahead and let everybody know just what it's going to cost 'em to die, for the way it is now, a fellow don't know whether to die or not.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

Legislative Oil Probe Hearings Are Delayed

MORE RECALL PETITIONS AT BEACH ISSUED

While no word had been heard from Assemblyman W. T. Hornblower, of San Francisco, chairman of the assembly committee named to investigate the tideland drilling situation at Huntington Beach, hearings of bribery charges made by Supervisor N. E. West, of Laguna Beach, in connection with recent tideland oil legislation, probably will not get under way before mid-July, it appeared today.

Speaker Ted Craig, of the assembly, who joined with Assemblyman James R. Utt and Senator N. T. Edwards in asking the Hornblower committee to look into Supervisor West's charges, is reported to be absent in the East at the present time.

Senator Edwards expects to start tomorrow on a three week's vacation visit to Alaska, he said today. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Edwards.

Accordingly, it is not believed that the committee hearing, should the committee decide to investigate West's charges, will start for some weeks, as it is assumed that the committee would have to hear the Orange county legislators on the question.

The three legislators signed a communication to Hornblower referring to West's charges as "false statements." West then threatened to bring a libel suit against them.

Petitions Circulated
Circulation of six supplementary recall petitions got under way in Huntington Beach today following the announcement of City Clerk Charles Furr that the petitions filed last week for the recall of Mayor Tom Talbert and Councilmen John Marion and Anthony T. Tarr did not contain the required 289 names.

The petition for the recall of Talbert contained 59 names, while those for the ousting of Marion and Tarr had 62 names each.

City Clerk Furr had 15 days in which to check the petitions, with the law allowing the recall proponents 15 days following the checking of the petitions.

Elson G. Conrad, former mayor of Huntington Beach, one of the backers of the recall move, declared this morning that he expected to have the required number of names before the deadline set by the law.

Recall proponents charge the three councilmen with inefficiency, intimidation of employees, negligence and squandering of public money. The recall move was launched after the city council had endorsed a bill providing for the drilling of the tidelands by means of whip-stacked wells from the mainland.

This bill was passed, without providing for the drilling of wells into the tidelands by means of "islands" in the water was defeated.

CAMP PERIOD RESERVATIONS CLOSE TUESDAY
Reservations for Orange county boys under 12 who plan to attend the Y. M. C. A. summer camp at Oceanside June 27 to July 5 must be made at the Y. M. C. A. before tomorrow night, it was announced today by Secretary Ralph Smedley.

The party of boys will leave for the camp, which is situated on the headwaters of the Santa Ana river, 90 miles from Orange county, Thursday morning, Smedley said. Between 75 and 100 Orange county boys will make the trip.

Highlights Of Convention

Some of the anecdotes that came out of convention sessions, some of the remarks that are made and of the displays and demonstrations that are given draw great applause and much comment at the State Christian Endeavor convention at Fullerton.

For instance, Mrs. Carrie Ford has handled efficiently the housing of the delegates, and has become known as "Mother Ford, who tucks them in bed."

The first "lost and found" was carried to the platform by Dr. William Wickert Saturday night; it was a lovely little curly headed girl about two years of age. Dr. Wickert offered to keep her, but someone instantly claimed her.

One announcer said the painters would paint signs for souvenir hunters if they would leave the posters signs in place. "They are there to direct people; and then they ain't," he said.

San Bernardino county, 200 strong, stopped Howard L. Brown in the midst of announcements Sunday night and sang a song dedicated to President Ada May Visick. It got applause.

The Rev. Mr. Abbey from India says the exhibit from America in the museum on religion in Burma is a twenty dollar gold piece.

Will Rodger from up north doesn't spell his name the same but it sounds the same and it always draws a bit of a chuckle.

Kern county delegates are striking in appearance, wearing little white capes, lined with red, tossed back over the left shoulder, with a red cross on the right shoulder.

It was announced that a post office is in convention hall; not a game; a real one; it was also announced that if Marietta desired the card to continue its journey she would go to that office and place more address than just "Dear Mother and Dad" on it.

The goal of registration has been set at 6000. Dr. Wickert was asked by Howard Brown if he thought Orange county people would take that slack up, since they didn't have to drive so far to attend, and the Doctor cheerfully answered that "Why if the people here from Iowa would register it would take up the difference."

Quartet Sings
The male quartet from the Fresno First Presbyterian church, representing Modesto county union, won first prize in the annual contest at a meeting Sunday afternoon in Convention hall, where six groups competed.

They were awarded a cup by the chairman of the afternoon, Andrew Stewart, first vice president, after they were pronounced winners by Herbert G. Tovey, one of the judges. The personnel is MacGregor Hopelam, Ralph Todd, Elder Clark and Arch McClelland.

Others competing were from San Gabriel union, a girls group, Santa Clara union, Sacramento union, another girls group, San Luis Obispo union and Riverside union.

Besides Dr. June H. Baird, of Oakland First Presbyterian church, Mrs. David Martin, ex-president and the only woman who has been state president besides Miss Visick, spoke briefly to the group at this session.

Another high light of the convention was awarding of flags for registration to the unions. Howard L. Brown, general secretary and manager, assisted by Edmon Thomas presented those flags, engraved leather banners, to representatives of 24 of the 29 counties or districts Sunday night.

Ventura won first and Humboldt second places. It was noted at the presentation that Orange county has 1500 delegates registered.

The flags awarded Sunday night at the large gathering in the stadium, where all convention committeemen and women were introduced by Dr. William Wickert, general chairman.

PAIR HELD AS KIDNAPERS IN COUNTY JAIL

tacked her and declared he was the one who so severely beat her about the face.

Deputy District Attorney James L. Davis this morning filed two charges against the men in custody, that of kidnaping, which carries a sentence of one to 50 years, and a charge of rape, which carries a sentence of one to 50 years.

Deputy sheriffs learned that Mrs. Dean had gone to another cafe early Saturday night with a man escort. She is reported to have left him at this cafe and gone away in a car with a man and his wife named Stepp. Later the three of them appeared at the Westminster cafe. Just at the closing hour, Mrs. Dean stepped out of the building. When she returned she found the door locked.

All cafes here have a few minutes, while she was waiting near the building, she was grabbed by the two men, she reported.

ATTENDANCE AT C. E. CONCLAVE BREAKS RECORD

With the exception of one, all speakers for the general sessions were missionaries for these first two days of the convention.

Music Challenge
In his opening presentation of a message on the convention theme, the Rev. Mr. Abbey hurled a challenge to the youth assembled when he said "Prove you are world changers." The particular phase of the theme "Christ Centered Life" as given by this first speaker was "Increasing in Knowledge."

He said three major religious or philosophies are in the world since the World war, extreme nationalism, such as Hitlerism and Muscovism, and as evidenced in United States among some of our so-called "one hundred per cent Americans;" bolshevism and Christianity are the other two. "Unless Christians are changed, first, and then face these two issues, they cannot prove they are world changers, or are living a Christ Centered life," he declared.

Although most Orange county churches had as guest speakers Sunday morning, the speakers for the Sunday afternoon convention session in the auditorium of the high school was attended by more than 1400, and Dr. Royal J. Dye, who was formerly in Africa as a missionary, brought a second phase of the theme, and discussed "Being Fruitful in Every Good Work."

This veteran African missionary, who will be the speaker on the last convention program Tuesday night, declared that only as Christians face race and other problems in a missionary spirit can the problems be solved. He crisply defined the missionary spirit as being "Christianity in its knees in love and service."

Five Contributed
Dr. Ira D. Warner of Portland, Oregon Pacific coast bishop of the United Brethren in Christ, in contributing to the theme at the large session Sunday night in the stadium urged that those attending the convention carry away from it those things that make Christ the center, "Christ gave five great contributions," he declared, naming them as first, revealing God, second, revealing the highest form of worth of human personality; third as offering the only solution for the sin problem, fourth, as answering the death problem, and fifth as sending the holy spirit.

In all the lesser session the theme was continued. The Rev. M. G. Papazoom, Armenian, speaking to a group of some 400 in a morning conference, declared that not all students of the Bible find Christ. "There are three relationships as regards man and the Bible," he said. "There are those who live without the Bible, there are those who live in the Bible, and there are those who find God through the Bible."

Prisoner Back In Jail 30 Days For Letter Smuggling
Earl Alling, 27, completed serving a sentence of 30 days in the county jail today, but there was no freedom for him. Instead, he was re-booked and today started serving 30 more days for attempting to smuggle uncensored letters from the prison tanks.

Caught with the letters by Theo. Lacy Jr., jailer, Alling was charged with a violation of the penal code which makes it unlawful to communicate with prisoners illegally and was sentenced by Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison to serve six months in jail. Five months of the six were suspended.

Picnics and Reunions
OGDEN, IOWA
Former residents of Ogden, Iowa, will hold their annual picnic and reunion at Bixby park, Long Beach, all day, Sunday, June 30.

FATHER GROWS DAHLIA FOR DAUGHTER TO WEAR WHEN SHE PRESIDES AT C. E. CONCLAVE

THOSE behind the scenes and those who take routine parts at the Christian Endeavor conventions are among the most interesting in attendance at the 48th annual session in Fullerton.

Among them are the parents of the devotional music; the pianists, Ada May Visick, who, as she announced, have continued to encourage her in the work as state president the past year. And at the close of that year they sent her Saturday night at the opening of the convention a beautiful white dahlia to wear as a corsage, a dahlia which her father, a flower lover, has developed, has watched blossom for three years, which makes it eligible for naming, and which he has named "Christian Endeavor."

Others behind the scenes and who oil the machinery in one way or another are Lois Kemble Reid, who also is head of the famous Roth Ecclesia choir of Los Angeles. She smilingly sells banquet tickets.

Anna Shield has been state secretary for 15 years, and supervises detailed work at all times as well as assisting at rush times. There is Howard L. Brown, general secretary, who makes announcements at the general sessions, and who takes the collection so graciously that it is a pleasure to give; there is Paul C. Brown, who always closes the devotional hour.

Otis Ironmonger, the convention collector, from San Bernardino; the Collins Twins of Anaheim, who assist at each general session with Anita, his father, James Irvine, sr., and a brother, Myford Irvine, of San Francisco.

Many local friends today mourning the passing of James Irvine, Jr., affectionately known as "Jase" by his associates, who had been an active figure in Santa Ana's civic and social life. He was a member of Santa Ana Elks Lodge No. 794, which he joined in 1921, and of Santa Ana Post, American Legion, in which he had been active.

Prior to a recurrence of his illness in 1930, he had been a member of the Legion executive committee, a member of the Santa Ana Army company, a director of the Santa Ana Valley hospital, and was appointed a director of the First National Bank.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Athalie Irvine, daughter of Dr. George Richardson of 2114 Severance street, Los Angeles, who was constantly with him during his battle for health and who was at the bedside when the end came, a two-year-old daughter, Athalie.

OPPOSITION TO BURGLARY RING TRUSTEE AIRED BROKEN UP AND BEFORE JUDGE
Hearing was commenced today before Superior Judge J. O. Moncur of Plumas county in the contest by heirs of the late W. T. Brown, Fullerton lumberman, who oppose distribution of a $125,000 trust to the trustees.

The contesting heirs, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Brown, Helen Brown and Mabel B. Butler, children of the deceased, specifically seek to oust one of the trustees, Lester W. Greiner, of Fullerton, on the ground that he is indebted to the Brown and Dauser Lumber company, shares of which corporation constitute the trust.

Breiner states that he purchased stock of the corporation at the late W. T. Brown's request, under an agreement to pay for it with his services.

He is one of five trustees, another of whom, Arthur J. Kelley, has resigned. The trustees include the widow, Mrs. Alice B. Brown, and a daughter, Katherine McGill, who have not joined in the contest with the other heirs.

The hearing was still in progress this afternoon.

SIX ARRESTED AS GUN. KNIFE USED IN FIGHT

One man was shot in the shoulder and cheek, he and two others were cut about the face, and their asserted and three injured men were arrested by Santa Ana police officers following a free-for-all battle near the Pacific Electric railway station on East Fourth street, early Sunday morning.

Domingo Garcia, 23, gardener of 826 East Pine street, was being held today on a felony charge, assault with a deadly weapon. He is to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison this afternoon.

Police were unable to learn what the fight was about, but Garcia is asserted to at first started battling with a pistol. He fired several times, one bullet striking Lupe Campos, Delhi Mexican, in the left shoulder, another cutting across his cheek. He is in the county hospital, not badly hurt.

Tiring of the gunplay, Garcia then turned to his knife and cut Lupe Gallegos across the forehead, near the left eye, and Manuel Plan, centia across the mouth, police said. They were taken to the hospital and later taken home.

Police in three radio cars rounded up all six of the participants, filing the felony charge against Garcia and charges of fighting against the other five. Others in the fight who were arrested but who were not injured were Andrew Cruz, 21, 1004 East Washington avenue, and Gilbert Cruz, 21, of the same address.

Today before Judge J. G. Mitchell, Gallegos, Gilbert Cruz and Planencia all pleaded guilty to fighting. Time for the pronouncement of judgment was set for July 16 at 10 a. m.

Campos told police that Garcia was shooting at Planencia and that he was merely an "innocent bystander" in the affair. Gallegos said he was merely trying to stop the fight. Gilbert Cruz said he was guilty, but that he didn't "hit nobody and nobody hit him."

Lupe Campos, though not seriously hurt, was unable to be in court today. The knife and the gun were found by officers and are being held for evidence.

Former Convict
Deutch, according to police records, was released from San Quentin June 13, 1934, after serving five years of a one to 15 year sentence for burglary.

Operating a jewelry store at the time of his arrest in 1929, he pleaded guilty to one burglary count after confessing jewel thefts totaling from $300,000 to $400,000 over a period of five years, police said.

Two additional burglary charges were dismissed by the trail judge on condition he serve the full 15 years. The prison board, however, fixed the term at 10 years, and the penalty was further shortened by credits for good behavior.

Jewelry and silverware worth $12,000 were confiscated by police at Deutch's home. Part of it police suspected of being loot taken in a $20,000 burglary of the home of Mrs. M. B. Loy in an exclusive section of the city, April 4.

Valuables filling a room at the Wilshire police station included diamonds and other gems, oriental rugs, cameras, binoculars.

In the huge seizure at the San Francisco home of Deutch's brother-in-law were 272 loose diamonds, police said.

Building permits totalling $130 for Saturday, when two permits were issued.

Russell Peterson, 1509 North Main street, took out a license to erect a garage at his home and S. M. Rowell of 2007 South Garnsey street was issued a permit to erect a $20 poultry coop.

MISS MARBLE GOES EAST NEXT MONTH

BERKELEY, June 24.—(UP)—Alice Marble, blond San Franciscan, planned today to go East in July to continue her comeback campaign for the place in the international picture she once held.

She will take with her the California state women's singles championship, won on the courts of the Berkeley Tennis club in her first tournament appearance since she was stricken ill a year ago while playing in Paris.

In capturing the state title for the third time in her career, Miss Marble waded through a formidable field of opponents, climaxing her brilliant play with a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Margaret Osborne, San Francisco high school girl, in the finals yesterday.

Police were today attempting to unravel a fantastic story told by Charles Kenneth Roberts, 23, a transient from Colorado, who is being held in the county jail today, booked for grand theft, in connection with a stolen automobile.

He was arrested on the Coast highway at 6 a. m. today while sitting in the machine which was out of gasoline.

Roberts told officers he was picked up by a woman named Elva M. Wahl, of 4363 Phillips street, Detroit, on a road in Colorado and that he started to the San Diego fair with her. On the way, there was an automobile accident and the car was badly damaged, but still able to travel on its own power.

Then, when they reached Fowler, Calif., the woman said that it was her destination, that she had come there to attend the funeral of her father. He said she told him that she had no insurance on the machine, other than fire and theft, and suggested he take the car to Los Angeles and abandon it. She then would report it as a stolen car, the youth said she told him, and collect the insurance.

Asked why he didn't do as told, Roberts told police that he "figured there was something wrong about that" and had just started to take the car back to the factory when he was arrested.

The car carries Michigan license plates and looked as if it had been turned over, police reported.

With two automobile accidents reported today, nine persons were hurt, one seriously, in a total of six crashes reported to authorities here since Saturday.

Rafael Romero, 8-year-old San Juan Capistrano youth, was in a serious condition today at the Orange County hospital from a skull fracture, received at his home yesterday when he was run down by an automobile.

The child was playing in the driveway and was struck by a machine being backed out of the driveway. His condition, although serious, was improved at noon today and it was believed that his injuries would not prove fatal.

Three Orange women were cut and bruised at 9:30 a. m. today when the car in which they were riding, driven by Mrs. Clarence D. Bay, of 1306 West Almond street, Orange, collided with a Penn Transfer company truck, at the intersection of Roe Drive and North Main street.

Police reported the man had been drinking and did not extend past Fruit street at this point. He was not badly hurt.

Mrs. Martha Quatacker, 35, of Los Alamitos, was cut and bruised when the car in which she was riding with her husband, Raymond, 37, ran off the road on Los Alamitos boulevard, two miles south of Los Alamitos and struck a telephone pole.

Police reported he pulled out of traffic to pass another car and seeing that he did not have room to do so, attempted to pull back into the right-hand lane. His fender was struck by a machine driven by C. J. Meyer, 11735 Robin street, Los Angeles, causing the machine to leave the road.

Cars Collide
A woman and a girl were slightly injured at 7:20 p. m. yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding, driven by Patricia Esunoya, 49, of Seventeenth street and Verona Road, collided with a car operated by Edward F. Hurst, 16, of 201 Pomona avenue, Brea, on Harbor Boulevard near the Talbert road.

The injured were Elizabeth Esunoya, 64, who was taken to the county hospital where she was treated for cuts and bruises, and Mary Esunoya, 9, who received slight injuries about the body.

Mother of Santa Ana Woman Dies

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning for Mrs. Marie Ramlose, who passed away Sunday morning at Southgate. The services will be held at the Larkin-Christensen funeral parlors, 6003 Compton avenue, and the remains will be sent to Richfield, Utah, for interment.

Mrs. Ramlose was the mother of Mrs. Roda Ramlose, formerly Heiss, of 530 North McClay street, with whom she had made her home for several months before going to Southgate two weeks ago, and has made many friends during her stay here.

Administrative offices, the printing project the central shoe shops, garage and warehouse of six units of the United Co-operatives of Orange county, are to be housed shortly at 1629 East First street, in a part of the former Kaufman factory. It was announced today by Spencer Allen, coordinator of the groups. These projects are to be moved from 615 East Washington avenue.

Allen stated this morning that the Anaheim cannery, the Santa Ana broom factory, the Newport Beach bakery and the Fullerton sewing project will remain where they now are unless at some future date it is found that greater efficiency can be secured by moving them and then only such projects will be moved as are lagging behind.

The new headquarters were secured following a united action of the six units, Santa Ana Newport Beach, La Habra, Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange, to incorporate. The whole object of the consolidation, Allen states, is to step up efficiency and to establish responsibility as an incorporated organization. Articles of incorporation are now in the corporation commissioner's office for approval and when articles are received by the unified groups of the county, officers will be selected to hear the organization.

A bus to move members to where they can work with the greatest efficiency is a new project of the county units and a truck chassis is to be fitted with a bus body and is to be put in operations shortly for this purpose.

At present Allen says every effort is being put forth to conserve food products at the Anaheim cannery with a capacity of 1000 No. 2-1 cans an hour. All the units are cooperating in canning all available fruit and vegetables. Apples, peaches, pears, apples and sauer kraut are to be included in the canning program for the summer months. John Poole is factory foreman.

At the Newport bakery 600 one and a half pood loaves of bread daily are baked, all of which are sold to co-operative units.

WILL IMPOUND AUTOS PARKED ACROSS DRIVES

Persons who park their automobiles across driveways in the downtown and residential sections of the city, can start looking for their machines in some public garage, in the future.

Chief of Police P. W. Howard announced today that all cars found parked across the entrance to driveways would be towed to a garage and the fee for storage would be charged to the owner of the car and will be due when the owner appears for his automobile.

Numerous complaints regarding persons who park in these restricted districts caused the police department to take that step today, Howard said.

HUNTER OPENS NEW FURNITURE STORE JULY 1

After working for the J. C. Horton Furniture company for the past 13 years, Orson H. Hunter, well known local furniture man and prominent Mason, announced today that he has severed connections with the Horton company and will go in business for himself.

During the last several years Hunter has been salesmanager at Horton's. Now he has purchased the stock of new and used furniture of Braasch and Davis at 830 South Main, where he will engage in business for himself. He will take over the store and make many improvements on July 1.

Hunter has been a resident of Santa Ana since 1921, coming here shortly after being discharged with a second lieutenant flying status from the air service of the U. S. Army, having served two years during the World War. He now lives, with his wife and two daughters, at 817 East Santa Clara avenue. He is prominent in Masonic circles, being a past master of Silver Cord lodge No. 805.

In a statement made today in connection with the purchase of the South Main street furniture store, Hunter said that he feels that there is a real need for a store offering clean, well-selected, used furniture of good construction.

"The demand for furniture," he said, "has become so strong since the first of the year that, together with the fact that all prices along with living expenses have risen out of proportion with income, made me decide that this would be ideal time to get to-

Miss Hamilton has been staying with her aunt and grandmother in Buena Park while attending Fullerton Junior college.

Others present were Miss Mina Duden, Miss Regina Walberg, Miss Leona Lehmer, Miss Aulba Fickie, Miss Elizabeth Hunziker, Miss Margaret Nichols, Miss Loretta Nichols, Miss Charlotte Plaspole, Miss Betty Hatch, Miss Margaret Boyd, Miss Rosemary Frederick and Mrs. Marie Rittenhouse.

TWO NEW FILMS AT WEST COAST TODAY

Opening a day ahead of schedule, a double feature bill with "The Nitwits," starring Wheeler and Woolsey in a murder mystery in which the comedians take the hilarious counterparts of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, and "Black Sheep," starring Edmund Lowe and Claire Trevor in a fast-moving comedy drama, opens today at the West Coast theater. The bill will show for four days.

Wheeler and Woolsey turn amateur sleuths in "The Nitwits" to solve a mystery and unmask the sinister "Black Widow" who has been terrorizing the city. Betty Grable and Evelyn Brent have the leading feminine roles in the picture, which features a number of new tunes.

Edmund Lowe plays the part of a professional gambler down on his luck in "Black Sheep." The action in the film concerns the lives of several persons aboard an ocean liner. Claire Trevor is an actress who is returning home and who joins Lowe to back a romance and keep a captivating adventure from a desperate move involving a young playboy, Tom Brown.

4 Sailors Escape Injury As Machine Hits Embankment

LAGUNA BEACH, June 24.—An accident which might have resulted in serious injury for persons involved occurred Friday afternoon on the Coast boulevard, near Wave street in the Cliff section, when a car reported to have been driven by Raymond La Ferrerie, sailor, U. S. S. New Mexico, suddenly left the road and crashed into the embankment on the hillside of the highway, turned over, and then caught fire.

A blowout of a rear tire was given as the cause of the mishap. Fortunately, none of the occupants of the car, four sailors including the driver, were injured. The fire was put out by the sailors. Traffic Officer Jack Blakey investigated the accident.

SALARY INCREASE QUESTION AND ANNUAL BUDGET BEFORE CITY SCHOOL BOARD TONIGHT

Meeting this evening to consider next year's budget and teaching salary schedules, the Santa Ana board of education may consider partial restoration of the 23 per cent salary reductions suffered by Santa Ana teachers in the pay cuts of 1932-33 and 1933-34.

The board has been advised, it is said, that it can increase present salaries five per cent without increasing the school tax rate, this possibility being due to increased assessed valuation through the return of public utility companies to county tax rolls.

The present total teacher payroll is $477,000, a five per cent increase thus meaning a raise of $23,850.

The teachers took a salary cut of 10 per cent in the 1932-33 payroll, and were trimmed another 13 per cent in the 1933-34 payroll. In addition to their customary annual increases or "increments" were stopped.

Under a salary survey covering 30 representative cities of California, which was laid before the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce recently, it was shown that Santa Ana's minimum salary for elementary teachers, $1,200 per year, is well down the list, being in twenty-first position. Its maximum elementary salary, $1,602, was still farther down the list, in twenty-fourth position.

In the junior high school field, Santa Ana is still lower, its mini-

SANTA FE TO RUN SPECIAL NEXT SUNDAY

As a convenience to the traveling public that must make its holiday trips on weekends and Sundays the Santa Fe railroad this Sunday will run an experimental special train from Fullerton to the San Diego exposition, it was announced today by Traveling Passenger Agent C. D. Lindsey.

Special holiday rates will be in force for the trip, Lindsey said, and the crowds that are expected to take advantage of the offer will greatly reduce the traffic congestion on the Coast highway, already glutted with weekend and excursion travelers.

"The Santa Fe is offering this special service to its Orange county patrons as an appreciation of their patronage, and as an effort to help cut down the alarming number of Sunday traffic accidents, which already have caused 28 deaths in the county," Lindsey said today.

Popular fares for the trip, of $1.50 for adults and $1 for children, will prevail. The special train will leave Fullerton at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, arriving in San Diego at 2:50 o'clock. The return trip will be made from San Diego at 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

The complete schedule is as follows: leave Fullerton 7 a. m.; Anaheim, 7:10 a. m.; Orange, 7:15 a. m.; Santa Ana at 7:30 a. m. Arrive at San Diego at 2:50 a. m. The excursion special will leave San Diego at 9 p. m., arriving in Santa Ana at 11:30 p. m.; Orange, 11:30 p. m.; Anaheim, 11:35 p. m.; Fullerton, 11:45 p. m. It is the desire of the Santa Fe Railway Co. to ascertain if such a service would be supported by the traveling public, and should the number of passengers warrant the special Sunday service will probably be continued, Lindsey said.

The hobby of E. P. Faustman, Aurora, Neb., is miniature making. He recently completed a cement model of the Nebraska capitol. The model stands 12 feet high and has nearly 900 windows.

Funeral services for John Endres, 72, of 1032 West Fifth street, who died at his home June 23, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Smith and Tuthill funeral home. The Rev. Ray Brahm of Laguna Beach will officiate, with interment to follow in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Endres, who had lived in Santa Ana for the past two years, was a native of Pennsylvania, and a retired farmer. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Endres, and his children, Mrs. Louis Alex and Paul Endres, of Lincoln, Neb.; Lewis Endres, of Santa Ana; Leon and John H. Endres, of Laguna Beach; Mrs. Roy McVey, of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Ray Trendly, of Culver City, and Dorris Endres, of Lincoln, Neb.

Mrs. H. H. Haggerty has invited the organization to hold the July 17 meeting of the group at her home. An all day meeting will be held and a covered dish luncheon served under the shade trees about the home at noon.

Other members of the faculty of the summer school are Dr. William J. Baumgartner, professor of zoology at the University of Kansas, and William Ingram, laboratory technician and assistant in zoology.

Stories in STAMPS By I. S. Klein

ALFONSO'S LAST STAMP

ROYALTY in Europe suffered many degradations where republican forms of government displaced the monarchist regimes, and one of these insults was the practice of surcharging the stamps of the proud rulers with words that expressed their downfall. Below is an example, a stamp issued originally in honor of King Alfonso XIII and Queen Victoria of Spain, and overprinted with the title of the new government that replaced Alfonso's reign in 1931. In the case of this stamp of Spanish Guinea, all that had not been sold when the republic was formed were sent to Madrid to be surcharged, "Republica Espanol," but they were never returned to the colony. The Spanish Republic continued to use up the monarchist stamps by surcharging them, while it also began issuing stamps of its own design, some of which paid tribute to the heroes of the revolution.

RICKARD WOULD HAVE LIKED LATEST BALLYHOO MEDIUM

NEW YORK, June 24.—That editorial writer who dragged the controversy between Italy and Ethiopia into the meeting of large Prime Carnera and young Joe Louis tomorrow unwittingly introduced something brand-new in boxing ballyhoo.

This writer feared that New Yorkers of Italian and Ethiopian descent would be cuffing one another in the streets at sight, or would at least turn the ring battle into a farish sort of Donnybrook Fair.

How the late Tex Rickard would have gone for that one!

Rickard immediately would have called Mussolini and King Haile Selassie I and obtained a few snappy quotes at least.

Old Tedde would have organized his own Roman legions and recruited a battalion or two of Abyssinian spear throwers in Harlem, and had them drill in a gorgeous preview.

Yes, sir, it's too bad Rickard isn't around. The master promoter had to be content with all the old hackneyed ways of keeping the gladiators' names in print—talk of the "fix" ticket scandals, etc.

When Rickard died, Jack Dempsey fell back on having an imaginary gunman take a shot at him in the dark. That was good for one show, but the art of keeping the tom-toms tom-tomming deteriorated rapidly thereafter. The promoter finally resorted to having the warriors rescue fair maidens from Sly ponds.

FIRE SHOT TOO SOON

There wasn't a real good publicity gag pulled until that blank cartridge went off in the Asbury Park broadcasting studio, where Max Baer did most of his training for his sad party with Jimmy Braddock. That cartridge might well have been saved for the night of the engagement, by the way. It would have taken something like that to awaken the Butterfly Butcher Boy.

But the Italy-Ethiopia business is a lollapalooza.

However, offhand, I would assume the editorial writer that there is no cause for no longer take professional pugilism seriously enough to chuck chairs in the

Denney Will Be Stars' New Leader

CONTESTS HERE THIS WEEK TO DECIDE TITLE

Ending a brief but animated period of second-guessing, the commission of the Santa Ana Stars today prepared to elect Outfielder Tom Denney as second-half manager of their National Night league baseball club.

This action will be taken officially tonight, it is understood, when the commission gathers for an emergency meeting.

Denney will succeed Ralph (Bill) Cole, whose resignation takes effect with the termination of the first-half of the season a week from tomorrow night. Numerous persons, ranging from rival managers to league umpires, have been advanced as possible candidates for Cole's vacant post but Denney has been in line for the assignment right along, it was said.

A graduate of Whittier college, where he was all-Southern California conference halfback in football two years as well as an outstanding baseball player, Denney is now a coach at Roosevelt high school in Los Angeles. During the summer he resides at Laguna Beach and works in Santa Ana for the Southern California Edison company. Denney has been with the Stars the past four years, coming here from the Whittier club.

Regarded as one of the fastest men in the league as well as one of the ablest flycatchers, Denney is credited with being the most expert "bounce-hitter" in the game. He originated that form of batting that caught on in recent years.

Many others have copied Denney's style to good advantage. The commission will elect Denney only for the remainder of the present season.

ADMIRALS HERE TUESDAY

Santa Ana's status in the National league's waning pennant race will be decided this week.

The Stars meet Long Beach here tomorrow night and face Huntington Beach here Friday in games that ought to clear rather than cloud the issue.

Huntington Beach faces Olive at Huntington Beach tomorrow. The Packers are tough people these days and are sure to extend Louie Neva and Company. If they can turn back the Oilers they will be doing Santa Ana a tremendous favor because such an event would virtually clinch the first-half championship for the Stars.

More than 50,000 spectators are expected to pay approximately $400,000 to see Louis unleash his lethal fists on the ex-heavyweight champion's giant frame. It will be the largest fight crowd of the year, paying twice the receipts of the recent Max Baer-James J. Braddock title bout.

Tales of Louis' punching prowess continue to make him a 6-5 favorite with the betting ring, but after the experience of the Baer-Braddock upset it is likely that even money will prevail by tomorrow.

Hailed as the "Brown Dempsey" and the greatest Negro fighter since Sam Langford, Louis will enter the ring with one of the most remarkable records in pugilistic history. He has scored 22 triumphs without a defeat in less than a year of professional boxing. He has knocked out 18 of his opponents, and had all of them on the floor at least once.

Never pulling a punch, Louis has given his sparring partners an unmerciful lacing during his month of training at Pompton Lakes, N. J. His punches have felled every one of them and made several quit camp.

Louis punches with either hand—short, brutal punches. The flat-footed stance, shuffling in to stalk his foe. The high steps on his record are two knockouts of Lee Ramage, brilliant San Diego, Cal., boxer, a one-knockout of Stanley Poreida, who holds a decision over Carnera, a three-round K. O. of Charlie Massera, and a 10-round decision over Nattie Brown.

Two other seeded players also went through the first round successfully. Wilbur Hines, seeded No. 1, defeated Robert Rosa, a Michigan State, 6-0, 6-0. Leonard Patterson, a California, won by default from Norcross Tilly, captain of the Princeton team.

Phillip Woodledge, U.S.C., defeated Robert Fernald, Dartmouth, 6-1, 6-1.

EVANSTON, Ill. June 24.—(UP)—Kendall Gram of Tulane, first of the seeded players to meet an opponent, today won his match in the first round of the National Intercollegiate Tennis tournament at the Northwestern university courts. He defeated Robert Rosa, a Michigan State, 6-1, 6-2. Seven of the ten seeded players drew byes in the first round.

50,000 TO SEE LOUIS PRIMO: 'GATE' $400,000

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 24.—The big test for Joe Louis, Detroit's devastating Negro puncher, comes tomorrow night in Yankee stadium when he battles Primo Carnera, 255-pound Italian giant, in a 15-round heavyweight bout.

More than 50,000 spectators are expected to pay approximately $400,000 to see Louis unleash his lethal fists on the ex-heavyweight champion's giant frame. It will be the largest fight crowd of the year, paying twice the receipts of the recent Max Baer-James J. Braddock title bout.

Tales of Louis' punching prowess continue to make him a 6-5 favorite with the betting ring, but after the experience of the Baer-Braddock upset it is likely that even money will prevail by tomorrow.

Hailed as the "Brown Dempsey" and the greatest Negro fighter since Sam Langford, Louis will enter the ring with one of the most remarkable records in pugilistic history. He has scored 22 triumphs without a defeat in less than a year of professional boxing. He has knocked out 18 of his opponents, and had all of them on the floor at least once.

Never pulling a punch, Louis has given his sparring partners an unmerciful lacing during his month of training at Pompton Lakes, N. J. His punches have felled every one of them and made several quit camp.

Louis punches with either hand—short, brutal punches. The flat-footed stance, shuffling in to stalk his foe. The high steps on his record are two knockouts of Lee Ramage, brilliant San Diego, Cal., boxer, a one-knockout of Stanley Poreida, who holds a decision over Carnera, a three-round K. O. of Charlie Massera, and a 10-round decision over Nattie Brown.

Two other seeded players also went through the first round successfully. Wilbur Hines, seeded No. 1, defeated Robert Rosa, a Michigan State, 6-0, 6-0. Leonard Patterson, a California, won by default from Norcross Tilly, captain of the Princeton team.

Phillip Woodledge, U.S.C., defeated Robert Fernald, Dartmouth, 6-1, 6-1.

ALLISON LOSES TO McGRATH IN TENNIS UPSET

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 24.—(UP)—Vivian McGrath, youthful Australian Davis Cup star, furnished the all-England tennis tournament with its first major surprise today when he defeated Wilmer Allison of Texas, No. 1 ranking American player, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5, in a first round match.

McGrath, out-tricked Allison throughout with the sharpest angled shots, propelled by his twofisted backhand. The American was continually off on the wrong foot as the Australian would feint one direction and whip the ball another.

McGrath had terrific pace on all his shots, and was amazingly accurate. Time and again he nicked the sidelines with passing shots as Allison came into the net, and dropped jobs that spanked down cleanly on the backstripe.

The Australian played with such speed that Allison appeared slow and clumsy by comparison.

Another first round upset came when Jean Borotra, veteran French internationalist, defeated Henner Henkel, German cup ace, 6-4, 1-6, 8-6, 2-6, 6-2. Henkel, conqueror of both McGrath and Jack Crawford in recent German-Australian Davis cup tie, was expected to blast the not-so-young "Bouncing Basque" off the court.

The American standard was lifted when Don Budge, red-headed California youngster, making his debut at Wimbledon, disposed of Frank Whitling, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. Budge was the third American cup player to advance to the second round. He was preceded by Sidney B. Wood of New York and Johnny Van Ryn of Philadelphia.

Little Wolf, Titular Aspirant, In Go Here

Orange county wrestling fans may see the next world heavyweight champion wrestler in action tonight at the Orange County Athletic club when Chief Little Wolf, dashing and colorful Navajo Indian, meets handsome Nick Lutze, 210-pound former Venice lifeguard, in the best two-out-of-three fall main event of an all-star program.

Touted as the greatest all-around heavyweight in the game with a headlock comparatively as punishing as that of Ed (Strangler) Lewis; a better and more devastating flying tackle than Gus Sonnenberg, and with a hold of his own—the "Indian death-grip," Chief Little Wolf, is hitting the trail that will lead him to a championship match with Jim Londos this summer.

Mat's Heart-breaker

Lutze is known as wrestling's "champion breaker," for the simple reason that he has sent more top-notchers into wrestling oblivion than any other present day heavyweight. Usually Lutze catches them when they're about ready to wrestle for the title and then sends them back down the trail—thoroughly beaten and no longer regarded as a challenger.

Twice in the past he attempted to side-track Little Wolf but failed. The first time Little Wolf won a questionable decision and latter beat Lutze when the latter suffered a severe injury. Now, however, Nick is catching Little Wolf at about the right time, just when things have been set for a Little Wolf-Londos title bout.

The bout will mark the first appearance here of Little Wolf and in all probability the last for some time, should he live up to his reputation and come through with a victory.

Kudo On Card

On the same card will be much talked about Japanese "samurai," Kiman Kudo, who meets "Wild Bill" Grubbs. If the arena is still intact after Grubbs gets through wrestling it will be a miracle. Kudo gained recognition in

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

By DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 24.—The Yacht Club Boys . . . you should take a hop, skip and a jump over to the Trocadero some night and get a load of them. They're killing the customers. And they have film executives frantic!

Already known in America's smartest (highest priced, to you) night clubs, Charlie Adler, George Kelly, Jimmy Kern and Billy Mann have invaded Hollywood. And they have the town standing on its ear. Everyone in the film colony who is anybody turned out for their opening night at the Troc. It looked like an old-time opening at Grauman's Chinese Theater. Marlene Dietrich, Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone, Herbert Marshall, Gloria Swanson, Freddie March, Paul Muni, Ann Sothern, Dorothy Mackaill, Lee Tracy, Estelle Taylor and plenty of other bigwigs were on hand. And, forgetting they were celebrities, they nearly raised the roof with their applause.

And now — what? Why, it's doubtful if the boys ever will get out of town again. Warner Brothers already have their names on a contract calling for 16 shorts (those odd strips of film a projectionist runs through his machine so you can get a 10-minute nap between double features) in the next two years. And Darryl F. Zanuck is dicker with them for a top spot in one of his biggest features.

So, what? So the boys have pitched their tepees here for a good long stay.

Color Film Shows Here On June 29

A new era in screen entertainment is inaugurated in Pioneer Picture's first full color feature, "Becky Sharp," which will show at the West Coast theater strating next Saturday. It was announced today. The film was previewed here not long ago.

Taken from William Makepeace Thackeray's famous fiction classic, "Vanity Fair," and the London Mitchell stage play, "Becky Sharp," the colorful screen version stars Miriam Hopkins. Produced entirely in the new three-component Technicolor, it promises a revelation in beauty, fidelity to life and clarity. It is the first full length dramatic motion picture in this process.

Aside from the technical and artistic triumph, "Becky Sharp" offers an absorbing, perfectly executed drama which is said to be rich in striking characterizations and entertainment values, even without color.

Miss Hopkins, in her role demanding sparkling humor and tense emotion, is supported by a brilliant cast including Frances Dee, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Billie Burke, Allison Skipworth, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray and others.

The Rev. S. R. Gittins' ninth birthday anniversary occasioned a happy celebration Friday night when his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Gittins, 1549 Wilson street, entertained with a four course duck dinner.

Table appointments conformed to a pink and green color scheme, with a centerpiece of Tallismania roses. Nut cups in a pale green, and tapers in a delicate pink, furthered the chosen color motif.

Guests at the dinner were the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Archer, Mrs. M. J. Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Gittins, Miss Lorna Gittins and Mrs. Viola Sherman, and the Rev. Mr. Gittins, who returns this evening to his home in Pasadena after a visit here.

Following the dinner, the Rev. Mr. Gittins was taken for a drive upon his return, he was surprised to find that an additional group of friends had gathered in the Gittins' home during his absence.

The evening's festivities included a talk by the Rev. David McLeod of Ontario on the life of the Rev. S. R. Gittins, retired minister of the Free Methodist church. A poem, "Gittins Old," was read by Mrs. David McLeod, followed by a duet "The Old Rugged Cross," sung by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Warner.

The honor guest was the recipient of gifts, including a steamer rug given by members of the various county Free Methodist churches.

Two decorated birthday cakes, lighted with pink and white candles, were cut and served with ice cream rolls.

Those present besides the dinner guests were the Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Rose, the Rev. and Mrs. A. Stokesberry, the Rev. and Mrs. David McLeod, Messrs and Mesdames S. R. Seacord, J. C. Schroff and son, Donald Schroff, Paul Pholke, George E. Wheeler and daughter, Miss Dorothy Wheeler; Mesdames T. Mahoney, N. J. Sidle, Mary Fortner, Marie Kaufman, Mildred Moore, J. W. Beatty, and

Two prominent families of the community figured in a wedding ceremony which took place Saturday night, June 22 at 8 o'clock in Episcopal Church of the Messiah, when Miss Evelyn Huested Metzgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harvey Metzgar of Santa Ana, became the bride of Lawrence Henry Minge, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. The Rev. W. J. Hatter officiated. Mr. Metzgar gave his lovely blonde daughter in marriage. She wore a white satin gown in train, and a short face veil. THE MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Breakfast

1/2 cup strawberries or raspberries or

1/2 good sized cantaloupe

1-egg fluffy omelette

1 slice dry toast

1 cup coffee with

1/4 cup hot skimmed milk, no sugar

Calory total—260.

If you are wise, you'll take the cantaloupe in place of the berries. Cantaloupe needs no sugar, and is the least valuable of the three from a point of fat-making elements. For making the omelette, a half-teaspoonful of butter has been allowed, the necessary tablespoon of milk can be taken from the coffee allowance.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Raspberry-Plum Jam

4 cups red raspberries

4 cups sliced Satsuma Plums

5 cups berry sugar

Pit and slice the plums, do not peel. Cook with 1 cup water until the pulp is soft. Add sugar, bring to a full rolling boil, add berries and continue the full boil for 10 minutes, skimming frequently during this period. Cut the heat to a simmering stage, put kettle on a grid or asbestos mat, and continue until the jam shows signs of jellifying along the kettle edges. Seal in small jars, preferably with tops and rubbers.

For Your Next Lunch Party

Jellied Avocado Salad

1 package instant jelly powder

Juice of 1 large lemon

1 cup hot water

1 cup canned grapefruit juice

2 avocados, cut in thin slices

12 blanched almonds, sliced

Melt the jelly powder in the hot water, add grapefruit and lemon juices and cool thoroughly before doing anything else. When the jelly is ready to pour, rank the thinly sliced avocados in a flat dish, cover with the jelly and sliced almonds, chill until set. Take up by spoonfuls on crisp lettuce and pass both French and mayonnaise dressings.

Since flavors must have a direct contrast, the sandwich to serve with this salad might be toasted cheese rolls; cut fresh bread very thin, remove crusts, spread with grated nippy cheese mixed with mayonnaise and roll up. Store in a pan until serving time. Just slip them under the broiler flame to toast quickly, and keep them coming in relays, piping hot and delicious. Coffee, nothing more, completes your menu.

THE TINYTIMES

When Rip was thrown out of the swim, he simply couldn't do a thing, but land right in the little stream that flowed along nearby. Of course he made an awful splash, and Duncy shouted, "That was rash. That's what he gets for letting go, while swinging 'way up high."

"Gee, we were simply having sport. We really thought he was the sort who'd like a high swing," said one tot. "We thought he'd hang on tight."

"He'll blame you Duncy. You're the one who put us up to all this fun. Perhaps, the best thing we can do is run with all our might."

"You see, folks call us Trouble Tots, and that's 'cause we have lots and lots of pleasure out of playing tricks on people whom we meet."

"We chanced to pick on Rip today. That's why we'd best be on our way. If we stayed 'round, we might get spanked. That wouldn't be so sweet."

"You bet it wouldn't," said the man. "I'll catch you quickly as I can and put you right across my knees. Ha! Will I make you shout! Before you get a chance to jump away, you'll get a good hard thump. 'Twill teach you both a lesson not to play mean tricks, no doubt."

Then Duncy loudly shouted, "Say! You're cowards. If you run away, perhaps I can convince Rip that the whole thing was in fun."

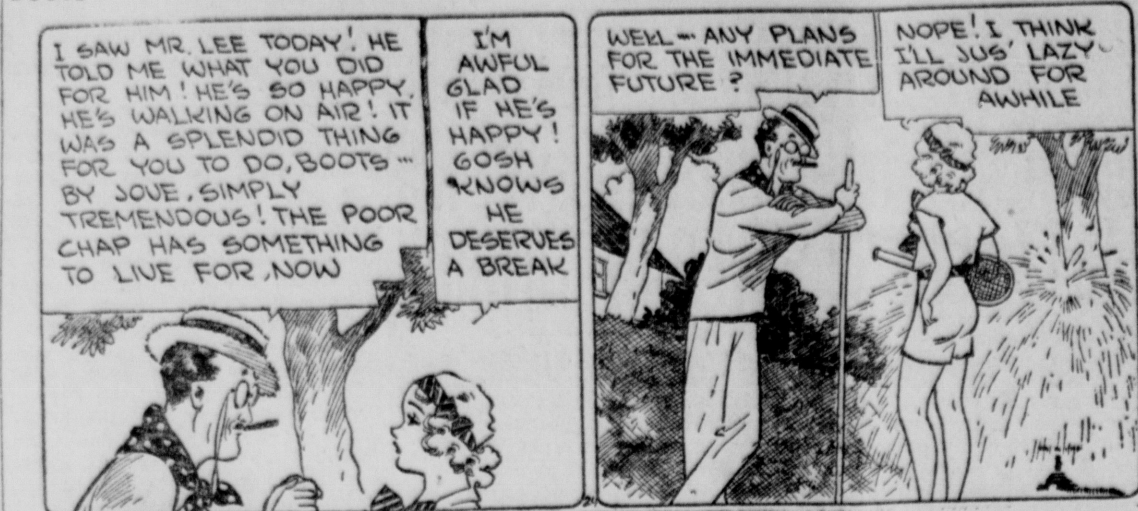

"I'd like to see if you are brave enough to stay. O' Rip may rave, but if I quiet him a bit, there'll be no need to run."

One tot resented Duncy's crack. He frowned and snapped right back, "I'm not a coward. No, siree! I'll stick right here with you."

"And, so will I," the other cried. Then Rip, still in the water, sighed, "I'll sit and rest a minute, ere I plan on what to do."

CHURCH SEES LIKENESS SAVOR

EX-PASTOR AL TO VINE THAT HOME COMING VIOLETS POWER

The annual all-day meeting yesterday of the Broadway and Walnut Church of Christ, in Santa Ana, was marked by the homecoming of many of its former members and friends from all over Southern California. The auditorium was filled with baskets of gladioli and blue delphinium in honor of the occasion. By invitation, the speaker at morning and evening services was Evangelist G. W. Riggs, of Los Angeles, the pioneer preacher whose work here is remembered since 1902. After the morning worship a basket dinner was served, followed by a song and social service during the afternoon.

"Back To The Old Paths" was the subject of the morning discourse. Taking as the text, Jeremiah 6:16 "Thus saith Jehovah, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls," he said in brief:

"This statement by the prophet was made during the turbulent period of Israel's history. Confusion and disaster were followed in the wake of their many mistakes. They were admonished to do to the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls." The Bible plainly teaches that to know and not to do is worse than not to do at all. The result was that they should "find rest for their souls." This would have prevented their ultimate destruction as a nation, but they said, we will not walk therein.

"This statement, made so many centuries ago, is as applicable to us today. We are swift travelers from time to time. We travel the road but one time. Life is crossed and re-crossed by many alternatives and roads leading in many directions. Many ways of thought and many of doing beckon and call. There are many ways traveled. Some of them are:

(1) The Way of Sensuality. "Let us eat, drink, and be merry." "Will the cup to the flowing brim." This way of life is based upon fleshly desires and knows no restriction "wherefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonored among themselves." (Romans 1:24). It impairs the mind, corrupts the body and fills it with painful decay and it leads surely to destruction.

(2) The Way of Avarice or Covetousness. Wealth and glittering gold is the chief end of this way of life. It is the cause of social injustice, class cruelty, and selfish legislation. It results in a superlative degree and molds the heart into a hard-hearted cast.

"Today we ask for the old paths. The changing scenes and heart-throbs of thirty years, since I was in Santa Ana, have demonstrated that the old paths are safest, surest, and best. We yearn for the old fashioned home with its circle of sweet influence. The family is the foundation of church and state and neither can endure if it perishes. Broken homes lead to juvenile delinquency. We would ask for the old standard of morality. But, above all, we seek the old-path church! We would have it upon the Bible as an all-sufficient guide; we would confirm our faith by our practice;

Speaking from the text in John 15, the Rev. William Schmuck, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, yesterday called attention to the simile of the vine and its branches, represented by the Lord and His believers. He said, in part:

"In John 15, the Savior likens His spiritual kingdom to a place where the heavenly husbandman has planted a vine, viz, the Savior Himself, while the believers are the branches on this vine and strength from the vine. If they become separated from the vine they will wither and die.

"The heavenly husbandman purges the vine of all branches that do not bear fruit. No one who does not partake of the life and strength which Jesus, as the Vine, imparts to the branches, the believers, through the means of the Gospel, which is the life-giving sap flowing from Jesus to the Christians, can bring forth fruit pleasing to God. From Jesus alone we take spiritual life and are enabled to do works that are acceptable to our heavenly Father.

"We must abide in Him and He in us; there must be a spiritual union between Jesus and us if we are to be true branches of Jesus and bring forth God-pleasing fruit. Without Him there is no faith, no love for God or neighbor, no songs of praise, no prayer, in fact, no spiritual fruit of any kind, while united with Jesus we will be made rich in all good works.

"Finally, the Lord tells us that the very purpose of our existence, both here on earth and in heaven is to glorify God. According to Jesus' own Word, we do this if we abide in Him and bring much fruit. We find Jesus in His Word and by faith in Him and receive strength from Him to do God-pleasing works."

we would be Jesus-thinkers as well as Jesus-followers and follow steadfastly in his way of life. Let us realize that the tendency is ever to adopt the new and untried and to depart in the arrogance of human wisdom from the path given by divinity. Let us cry for the old paths and let us walk therein."

FREE SPEECH, SOCIAL IDEALS, AND THE COMMUNISTS

The position of the Register on the matter of free speech is well known. We are ready and willing to support anyone who is willing to present his ideas privately or publicly. But we find it extremely difficult sometimes to keep our mental equilibrium and still favor the right of free speech for those who stand for ideas and principles which if put into effect would deny to others the fundamental rights and privileges which we now enjoy.

We are again exasperated with this group as they inject themselves into every meeting where it is possible for them to do so. Whenever people come together publicly to discuss the problems of the day in a progressive or liberal manner, or to discuss their grievances and to suggest remedies, they are plagued with these interlopers.

Whenever a group of wage earners meets to discuss things of mutual interest in relation to their employers a few communists inject themselves into such gatherings if possible in an endeavor to raise prejudices, or dominate the meeting if possible, and if not then to sabotage the honest efforts at a solution of the problem. They abuse everyone who believes in compromise, and make it just that much harder for the question to be decided on its merit.

Wherever liberals and progressives are meeting to discuss matters of general public interest we again find this small group of extremists. Perhaps they seek publicity, perhaps they seek the credit for any good that may come out of such meetings.

If a communist wants to make a speech let him make it; let him draw his own crowd. In our judgment if the communists in this area were to hold a meeting, aside from the police and the curious who would like to see a little trouble, not a baker's dozen would attend. The few communists who are in this county know it, they're tired of their own company, and for this reason graft themselves onto other groups.

Certainly it would seem that the very least they could do in appreciation of the liberal and tolerant people who maintain the right of free speech would be for them to treat the meetings of others with courtesy and respect.

It is the common practice of the extremist to demand ideally impossible conditions and to create trouble in an effort to attain them. It is easy enough to secure a degree of support by declaring oneself for a higher wage than it is possible to attain. But the real interest of these trouble makers does not lie in higher wages at all, what they really hope to do is to create trouble by appearing to be the friend of the laboring man. They are against the system. Their position is that our present system doesn't work. If they can make more trouble they have more evidence that it doesn't work. The more evidence they have the more converts they hope to get.

We have a case clearly in point. A representative of the Mexican consul has been working for his people in season and out. He has aided in voiding the vicious contract system prevailing amongst his people whereby as high as fifty cents a day frequently had to be paid to the boss contractor for the privilege of working.

This man is being abused in printed circulars distributed, we believe, by the communists. He is abused for not getting higher wages for his people. Evidently this is done to break down the man's influence with his people. This man is a Christian, he is opposed to communism, he is opposed to impossible demands and seeks to avoid fights, and strikes and other labor trouble.

There is a vast deal of difference in methods of approach to a problem as manifest by the Christian leadership of this country and the materialistic leadership of Russia. In the sense that one of the objectives is the same in each case, that of the welfare of the people, there is a common cause. But it is the only one.

Justice, and plenty, and a decently planned economic condition are not dependent upon force or violence or dictatorship, or atheism. They will come about through gradual changes, that can be achieved through our own democratic methods, lead by a religious influence that recognizes the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

COLLEGE GIRLS CAN TAKE IT

"Marriage and a family of at least two children is the favorite career anticipated by feminine college graduates," says Dr. Meta Glass, president of the American Association of University Women.

Dr. Glass is one of the noted educators of the country, and a sister of the famous Carter Glass of Virginia.

"The main difference between the college graduate of a few years ago and the one of today is that the girl of today is much more frank in acknowledging her desire for it. And she has a more common sense attitude towards it."

"In our liberal arts college, which has no department of domestic science, there is very evident a sense of responsibility among the girls about the necessity of equipping themselves to run a home."

"The girl of today regards it as her job to know how to market, how to furnish a home, how to take care of children."

But most remarkable of all is her statement, "that there is striking evidence, of what may become a trend in youth . . . a willingness to face the future on fewer of the material things than their parents possess."

In one sentence she acknowledges a tragic condition of the past and expresses the hope that it is passing. Nothing indeed was more tragic than the attempt on the part of the "young folks" to start on the high plane that the "old folks" had reached. And yet the society of their friends seemed to require it. As a result many young folks lived in rented apartments, with rented furniture, cars and radios on the installment plan; and life harassed by the worry of what the "Jones" might be doing next.

Older folk might well have wondered whether the younger generation lacked the fortitude to start in life as they had started. Of course that wasn't the case. The mistake of the youngsters was that they thought the standard of living was the all important thing in life; that bric a brac and other property amongst which a person lived and moved was all important to their well being. And perhaps also the idea that when a woman makes a home, rears a family and does it well, seemed a bit common-place after they had touched a bit of polish and read about a million dollar income.

Perhaps it was the depression, perhaps it was the common observation that the clerks and stenographers without an exaggerated idea of the proper scale of living were the ones who found husbands and a satisfactory married life; while young men passed the others by as a luxury too expensive to possess.

Whatever the reason, the observation that the college girl is willing to start on a scale her husband can afford is one of the most healthy observations of our times. It should never have been true that to give a girl a college education was to lessen her chances of marriage and yet all the figures in regards to college graduates would lead to this conclusion. If this condition is on the way to being corrected then the modern girl indeed has a measure of understanding her maiden aunt probably did not possess.

THE NEW HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

We are not much interested in pugilism, and we do not believe it matters much to the destiny of mankind who happens to wear the champion's crown. They come and go, and most of them revert to type. By which we mean that for the most part they do not come from the higher strata of intellectual and social life. Those who have listened to the broadcasts from the training quarters of the new champion did not recognize another man who would be invited to give a lecture on Shakespeare to an undergraduate class at Yale University. Tunney was an exception to the procession of fistic champions who came and went.

But there were a number of features about the recent event which are notable. The first was that a man who had been in relief for a year or more suddenly found himself in a state of affluence after an hour's vigorous exercise. His whole thought while he was in the ring was "the wife and the kiddies." That, certainly is so much to the good.

The second feature to be noted is that the sports writers were so much mistaken about the prospects. To most of them it was to be a farce. A heavy-footed, dull-witted coal heaver was to be pitted against a heady and hard-hitting opponent who would put him to sleep after a few rounds. One notable syndicate sport writer, after exhausting every available adjective to describe the "coming fight," said that if Braddock won, he would quit sport writing, and might hereafter be addressed in Burma, India. We have not happened to see anything from his pen since. We wonder if he has migrated to India.

Well, as we have noted, we were not much interested in the event, but it had its human side. Cinderella once more moves up from the chimney corner to grace the social hall of fame and fortune. That always appeals to the tenderer sides of our human nature. And the wise prophet of coming events has fallen from his judgment seat, and the world still offers a bright outlook for the aspiring man or woman who would climb the ladder of fame and fortune.

Three Little Boys

San Diego Union

"The youngsters confessed, police said, that they had slain a penniless wanderer in a hold-up that netted them nothing. All are bootblacks."

The three boys held in New York city on homicide charges are little fellows—the two older ones are 13, and the youngest one is 11. The youngest one and his brother are two of a motherless brood of six children, and the other 13-year-old boy is the son of a Negro preacher in a poor district. "All are bootblacks."

These three kids committed a murder, and this is no sob-story wordage to condone what they did. This is not to say, either, that a kid compelled to shine shoes for a living—or to do any other kind of work for a living—is going to be rendered vicious by the hardship. There are plenty of records to show otherwise.

These are just three little boys who weren't made sturdy and self-reliant and thrifty by being thrown on their own. They didn't make the grade. Horatio Alger passed them by. Their record doesn't prove anything.

These boys were born in the slums. They took their sun-baths on a tenement roof, and played on the city sidewalks as soon as they were big enough to toddle. They were raised with squalling babies, harassed parents, neighborhood hoodlums, cops and hustling social workers. They probably went to work before their time was worth $1 a week to anybody. Their way out of the tedium and squalor, of course, was to work and save for another 20 years, and wind up as trusted and industrious young bankers. But they wouldn't wait—they wouldn't figure 20 years ahead—even a week looks long to a 13-year-old.

There's no moral. Sometimes a stacked deck inspires the victim to industry, morality and high purpose—and sometimes it doesn't. You can't make a moral out of that.

Nations and Homes

New York Times

It is difficult with the home instinct among other nations, says Professor von Dunkel. He cites the notorious fact that the French have no word for "home" and have to get along with such poor make-shifts as foyer—fire-side, Maison—house, famille—family, chez soi—where one belongs, and so forth. Still, says the good professor, it is a puzzle where the French do hang out if they have no homes, for it is notorious that they never travel anywhere else, being thoroughly convinced that there is nothing outside of France worth seeing or reading or eating.

The English on the other hand do have homes and insist that every Englishman's home is his castle. This castle he leaves in charge of his wife while he goes to his club or shooting lions in Africa or lecturing in the United States.

IN FIJI

Where the native maidens are now clad in modern modes.
In Fiji, in the distant past
When natives sat to sup,
To make more tasty their repast
They ate each other up.
But now that they are civilized
They love to lark and play,
And would be very much surprised
By what they wear today.
You ought to see them wreathed in smiles
While they discuss the styles.

They've all gone "flap" the Fiji girls,
They know the latest modes,
Arrayed in shining, twisted curls
They trip along the roads.
Though dwelling far across the sea
They're not perturbed a bit,
But ape the styles of Gay Paree
And get away with it.

And lead, I'm told, good blameless lives
Which they SHOULD lead as wives.
However though the Fiji maids,
With bright and beaming smiles,
May look delightful in the glades
That dot their lovely isles,
Although they may be "chic" and smart,
Tongued out in shining silk,
I'm sure I could not lose my heart
To any of their ilk.
For me, and probably for you
These ladies just won't do.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

LIGHT FROM THE LABORATORY

C. F. Kettering likes to define research as "a way of finding out what you are going to do when you can't keep on doing what you are doing now."

There is meat in this definition. At several points in our civilization we simply cannot go on doing what we are doing now.

We cannot go on running an industrial system that does not furnish jobs for all of us who are able to work effectively.

With this admitted, then the question is what are we going to do about creating jobs for all of us?

And, next, who is to answer this question?

There is a regrettable tendency on the part of many Americans to look to the legislature for the answer.

They do not put it this baldly, but in essence this is what many Americans are saying: "Industry has come a cropper. The economic system has broken down. The business man has failed. We have rounded out the expansion-cycle of our economic development. The business men and industrialists did a good job as long as they were 'building the system, but they are at a loss to know how to run it for broad human benefit now that it is built. Therefore the state must step in and 'stabilize' the system by dividing up the limited number of jobs this stabilized system can offer, sweetening the pot with liberal public expenditures, and, in general, settling us down to a less exhilarating but more widely secure mode of life and work."

This, let us be clear, is the answer we shall get if we look to the legislature for the answer to the question of what we are going to do now that we cannot go on doing some of the things we have been doing, such as running an industrial system that has not enough jobs to keep us all busy.

But I am sure the legislature is not the place to look for answers to such questions. The legislature should have a part in framing the answer, but the core of the answer will have to come from the laboratory.

There is too much vitality in the American genius to be content with dividing up existing jobs; it will demand that more jobs be created.

And new jobs will never be created, save for a fleeting moment, by any political edict; new jobs that are to be at all permanent will be created only by industrial research which finds new jobs to be done, evolves ways of doing them and elaborate new services to be rendered.

One crack industrial researcher is worth two dozen politicians any day!

IMPOSED GUESTS

Suppose you were an imposed guest. Suppose that for tragic reasons you and your child or children were forced to live with your husband's people, or your wife's people. And suppose you found it difficult to adjust yourself and the family to the ways of the old people. What would you do about it?

Grandfather is eighty, and not naturally of a sunny disposition. He used to think that his own children should be seen and not heard, and that they should be seen as seldom as possible. That was when he was young and strong. Now, when he spends most of his time in his chair reading his papers, his attitude has changed little.

Benny, aged three and a half, builds a block house and garage and is about to try out the automobile around the project. While he is tying the string to the tiny machine with fingers none too skilled, the light goes out. Grandfather has finished reading his paper and is on his way to his own room, consequently no light does not count. As the old gentleman goes out of the door he kicks a few scattered blocks out of his path and they strike the new edifice with appalling results. Benny sets up a loud protest, but grandfather stumps steadily up the stairs.

"What is it? What is the matter, Benny? Did the light go out?" says mother coming in haste and excitement.

"Grandpa kicked it over. He put out the light and he kicked it over."

"He did? The mean old thing. I'll tell father about it the minute he comes in. There, there, don't cry. I'll turn on the light. I'll help you pick up the blocks."

Now the stage is set for a fine family row. If mother does as she threatened to do, and tells father, tells the story of Benny's wrongs as she feels them, father will be angry at grandfather. And what good will that be? Grandfather, eighty years old, sick, tired, trying to live out his days—what will be the good of feeling angry at him? That is the way he is and nothing this side of death will change him. This is his house and the family are his guests, imposed guests. It is their place to adjust themselves to grandfather's ways, to fit into his household. They can decide to get away as soon as they can, but while they stay they must behave as guests.

It is unpleasant for the child, that is true; but it is unpleasant for his father and mother too. Children can learn to adjust themselves to people, to conditions, without harming themselves any, especially if the mental background is kept clear by tact and appreciation and love. Tell Benny, "Yes, I know, but grandfather does not remember about your playing there on the floor. He feels tired of sitting still and feels he must go and lie down to rest. Don't you mind that. Be glad he can rest. Don't let's make it. We'll pick up the blocks and shake up grandpa's chair cushions for him so he finds his chair comfortable tomorrow. Then we'll take Tiger for a walk. And we'll plan a happy story for father. What did you do best today—that's what he will want to know."

Then there will be no sorry remembrances, no bitterness stored against the new day.
